CLEVELAND HEIGHTS COMMUNITY INTEGRATION MAP

The Forest — 2203 Lee Road, Cleveland Heights, OH 44118

THE NEIGHBORHOOD CONTEXT

Cleveland Heights is an inner-ring suburb of Cleveland with approximately forty-five thousand residents. The median household income is seventy-two thousand dollars, which is above the Ohio average. Fifty-five percent of residents hold a bachelor's degree or higher. The city is politically progressive, racially diverse, and culturally active. The primary commercial corridors are Lee Road and Coventry Village.

The Forest is located at 2203 Lee Road, approximately one mile east of Coventry Village. Coventry Village is the historic bohemian and arts district of Cleveland Heights, featuring independent boutiques, cafes, record stores, and the Beck Center for the Arts.

PARTNER BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

1. Beck Center for the Arts

Address: 17801 Detroit Avenue, Lakewood, OH 44107 (adjacent to Cleveland Heights border)

Type: Performing arts center

Opportunity: Sponsor a Beck Center production. Offer a "Beck Center Night" where ticket holders receive a ten percent discount at The Forest. Display Beck Center brochures at the consultation desk.

Why It Works: Arts patrons align with The Forest's educated, progressive customer base. Cross-promotion builds community credibility.

Contact Angle: "We are a new neighbor on Lee Road. We would love to support local arts and introduce our medical patients to the Beck Center's wellness programming."

2. Tommy's Restaurant

Address: 1824 Coventry Road, Cleveland Heights, OH 44118

Type: Iconic local restaurant, vegetarian-friendly

Opportunity: Create a "Coventry Crawl" passport. Customers who visit Tommy's and The Forest in the same day receive a five-dollar loyalty credit at each location.

Why It Works: Tommy's is a Cleveland Heights institution. Their customer base overlaps heavily with The Forest's target demographic.

Contact Angle: "We are building a neighborhood loyalty network. Tommy's is the anchor of Coventry Village. We want to drive traffic between our locations."

3. Blue Arrow Records

Address: 1844 Coventry Road, Cleveland Heights, OH 44118

Type: Independent record store

Opportunity: Host a "Vinyl and Vibes" evening. Blue Arrow provides the music; The Forest provides the education. First Tuesday of each month, six to eight PM.

Why It Works: Record store culture and cannabis culture share a demographic. Both appeal to Cleveland Heights' creative community.

Contact Angle: "Your customers and our customers are the same people. Let us give them a reason to visit both of us on the same night."

4. Luna Bakery and Cafe

Address: 2485 Fairmount Boulevard, Cleveland Heights, OH 44106

Type: Artisanal bakery and coffee shop

Opportunity: Offer a "Morning After" recovery package. Luna provides coffee and pastry; The Forest provides a CBD topical sample.

Why It Works: CBD topicals are a low-commitment entry point for cannabis-curious customers. Coffee culture is universal.

Contact Angle: "We have a non-psychoactive CBD balm that pairs perfectly with a Saturday morning coffee. Let us create a co-branded sample experience."

5. Cleveland Heights Public Library

Address: 2345 Lee Road, Cleveland Heights, OH 44118

Type: Public library

Opportunity: Propose a "Cannabis Science for Seniors" educational seminar. The Forest provides a certified educator; the library provides the space and promotes to its fifty-five-plus programming list.

Why It Works: Cleveland Heights has an aging population segment interested in medical cannabis for pain and sleep. The library is a trusted community institution.

Contact Angle: "We want to demystify medical cannabis for seniors who are curious but intimidated. The library is the perfect neutral ground for education."

6. University Circle / Case Western Reserve University

Address: Approximately three miles east of The Forest

Type: University and medical campus

Opportunity: Create a "Case Western Faculty and Staff Discount" — ten percent off with university ID. Target the stress and sleep needs of medical residents and researchers.

Why It Works: Case Western and Cleveland Clinic employees are time-poor, knowledge-rich, and have disposable income. They value discretion and precision.

Contact Angle: "We are three miles from campus. We want to be the dispensary that Case Western professionals trust for consistent, compliant, private service."

7. Cleveland Museum of Natural History

Address: 1 Wade Oval Drive, Cleveland, OH 44106

Type: Museum

Opportunity: Sponsor a "Plants and Culture" exhibit tie-in. The Forest provides educational materials about the history of cannabis cultivation.

Why It Works: The museum's audience is educated and family-oriented. Educational positioning builds trust without recreational stigma.

Contact Angle: "Cannabis has a ten-thousand-year history as a cultivated plant. We would love to contribute to your botanical education programming."

8. Heights Arts

Address: 2175 Lee Road, Cleveland Heights, OH 44118

Type: Local arts nonprofit and gallery

Opportunity: Host a "Cannabis and Creativity" panel discussion featuring local artists who use cannabis as part of their creative process.

Why It Works: Heights Arts is directly on Lee Road, walking distance from The Forest. Arts and cannabis culture are natural allies in Cleveland Heights.

Contact Angle: "We are on the same street. Let us bring the arts community into our space and introduce our customers to local creators."

9. Local Yoga Studios (Multiple)

Addresses: Various throughout Cleveland Heights and Shaker Heights

Type: Yoga and wellness studios

Opportunity: Offer a "Yoga and Recovery" package. Studio members receive a sample of The Standard's CBD topical after class.

Why It Works: Yoga practitioners are already wellness-oriented. CBD topicals are a natural fit for post-workout recovery.

Contact Angle: "Your members care about natural recovery. Our CBD balm is organic, non-psychoactive, and lab-tested. Let us add value to their membership."

10. Coventry Village Business Association

Address: Various businesses along Coventry Road

Type: Business association

Opportunity: Join the association as a business member. Participate in Coventry Village events such as the annual street fair and holiday celebrations.

Why It Works: Coventry Village is the cultural heart of Cleveland Heights. Being part of the association signals that The Forest is a neighborhood business, not a corporate intruder.

Contact Angle: "We are not a chain parachuting in. We are a local business hiring local people and supporting local events. We want to be part of the Coventry Village family."

COMPETITIVE CONTEXT

Amplify Dispensary is located at 1782 Coventry Road, approximately one mile west of The Forest. Amplify is owned by Buckeye Relief and has an established presence in Coventry Village.

The Forest's differentiation strategy: Do not compete on price. Compete on service depth, community integration, and medical patient advocacy. Amplify is a store. The Forest Cleveland Heights should be a neighborhood institution.

IMPLEMENTATION TIMELINE

Month 1: Contact Beck Center, Tommy's, and Heights Arts. Introduce The Forest and propose pilot partnerships.

Month 2: Launch Coventry Crawl passport and Vinyl and Vibes evening.

Month 3: Evaluate partnership ROI. Expand to top two performing partnerships. Document playbook for other locations.
